The "tragedy of color" was played in the streets of Atlanta yesterday.

Judging from the editorial opinion on another page of today's issue, the Vermont editors carried away a fairly good impression of Barre.

The building of a city hall in Montpelier will be a slight work in comparison with the selecting of the ground on which to place it. It is State street versus Main street with the former at the bat.

SOCCER FOOTBALL IN VERMONT.

The Vermont association football league was ended Saturday with a splendid exhibition of this manly sport on the local grounds, thus completing a season which has been, from the number of teams concerned, the most successful in a dozen years. There has not been so much interest, either on the part of the spectators since the middle 90's, when the champion Rangers were ready to meet all comers. Then, however, Barre sustained only one organization, whereas it now has three. The more the better, provided they can be of the standard of the Green Mountains, the Rangers and the Bon-Accords. And there is one other consideration to encourage the entrance of a large number of teams, for each added team means the bringing out into the open air of the workers in the granite sheds. To be sure, the three teams in the field this summer meant only forty or fifty players, but they brought out also a contingent of supporters who were ready to exercise their lungs. Every sport and every game is a Godsend for the granite workers, for it tends to strengthen the lungs of the participants, which is essential to their health. All outdoor sports should be encouraged in Barre, but not to be carried to excess. Plans ought to be matured soon for another association football league next summer.

Two Questions Make One Answer.
 "Would you give up smoking if I promised to marry you?"
 "Would you give up promising to marry me if I said no?"
 "That depends."
 "So I think."—Cleveland Leader.

by its development association. This activity on the part of the public-spirited people of that town is an outcropping of that spirit of the "new Vermont," which we are bound to see growing in volume now that the people are becoming aware of what they have to offer. Let the idea spread, for there are a great many Bartons in Vermont.

AN EVIDENCE OF THE "NEW VERMONT."

As an indication that the state of Vermont is awakening to its possibilities comes a brochure, entitled, "Beautiful Barton, Vermont," which is published by the Barton development association. The pamphlet contains fifty pages of views and word sketches, which set forth the advantages of this northern town in the best possible light. The pamphlet is intended as advertising, pure and simple, but is so finely prepared that it affords an excellent souvenir of one of the prettiest villages in one of the prettiest sections of beautiful Vermont. Half-tone views of field and lake, mountain and valley, business and residential sections, with descriptive paragraphs of each, make the production of great interest and cannot fail to attract the attention of not only summer visitors, but permanent residents and investors of money as well. The publishers have dedicated their work "to the memory of Col. William Barton, Hon. Ira Allen, Hon. Daniel Owen and the redoubtable father of our navy, John Paul Jones, all of whom were the original proprietors and charter parties to the township of Barton, Vermont." The publishers state that it was "not their purpose to overload the reader with too laudatory expressions or to boast overmuch, but they do feel justified in asking people to make comparisons with other places in New England and then to decide for themselves whether or not Barton is not their choice. In view of what is set forth in the brochure a good many people should be led to decide in favor of this location, either for temporary or permanent residence, and Barton ought to be a considerable gainer by the enterprise shown

We are always interested in the welfare of our customers, for as our friends prosper so do we.

Many of our best customers have started in a small way and have grown with us until today they carry an attractive balance.

FREE AT OUR STORE While They Last See Our Radiumite Window Display

We have received a fine new, special lot of handsome, hand-forged, hollow ground Radiumite Razors that usually sell at $2.00 each at retail, which we will give away absolutely free to advertise the wonderful RADIUMITE DOLLAR RAZOR STROP which is light, pliable, durable, convenient and safe, and which is revolutionizing the art of shaving.

A RAZOR GIVEN FREE TO THE PURCHASER OF EACH STROP CALL TODAY AS THEY ARE GOING FAST. We make this remarkable free offer of a razor of equal value to the Radiumite Razor, which will not harm the skin and most delicate razor. They make shaving a convenience and a delight, even to men having the hardest blades.

The secret of a good shave does not lie so much in a good razor as in a good strop. With the RADIUMITE STROP the most inferior razor is brought up to a fine edge, and the effect of the strop upon the face is so gentle that it is the best possible condition ready to shave the hardest beard easily and delightfully. Each Radiumite Strop is sold under the positive guarantee that it is not a satisfaction money will be refunded. They are for either Ordinary or Safety Razors.

Radiumite Razors, 80c to $2.50; Razors, $1 to $3. DANGER LURKS IN THE USE OF ANY STROP BUT A RADIUMITE! (Radiumite is a mineral, such as GARNET, BAKELITE, IVORY, BONE, and BLOOD, which result from the use of imperfectly cleaned razors that cut, irritate and even break skin, thus claiming the terrible toll that has been the usual result of shaving with a bad razor.)

THE ONLY PERFECT STROP IS THE RADIUMITE. Don't use the worthless, safety, double, common, one strip or generally sold, with which you dash out of the way to effect you. They are so much old junk, pure and simple. The real Radiumite stands for perfection in razor stropping. Buy a Radiumite strop, and risk no substitute—no matter how handsome it may appear. Danger lurks in the use of any strop but a Radiumite.

Our price this week for Razor and Strop $1.00. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.
